Slotnick, Esq., all pleadings, affidavits, proceedings before this court, the October 9, 2007 and the October 11, 2007 restraining orders of Justice Sproat, the prior order of this Court and the record herein, the Court finds that;

STATE OF NEW YORK )
 ) SS: COUNTY OF NEW YORK )

BARRY I. SLOTNICK, an attorney duly authorized and admitted to practice before the Courts of the State of New York, deposes and says:

1. I represent the Plaintiffs in this action and make this Affirmation in support of Plaintiffs' motion for sanctions, contempt, turnover of property, the immediate appointment of a temporary receiver and for related relief.

2. On October 9, 2007, Justice Sproat sitting for the Supreme Court of the State of New York in and for the County of Dutchess (Index Number 6607/2007) entered a temporary restraining order enjoining Defendants from, among other things, selling, offering for sale, consigning, transferring or in any way disposing of the art and objects more specifically identified therein. That restraining order was duly delivered to Defendants by personal delivery with directions for Defendant Salander to distribute the order to his staff and to all other necessary parties. A true and correct copy of the October 9, 2007 restraining order is attached as Exhibit 1.

3. On October 11, 2007, the parties, through their counsel, again appeared before Justice Sproat. At that time, upon stipulation of the parties and the consent of this Court, Justice Sproat also ordered the action transferred to the Supreme Court of the State of New York in and for the County of New York, to be assigned to the Honorable Richard B. Lowe III. A true and correct copy of the October 11, 2007 Order is attached as Exhibit 2.

4. The file is currently on its way to this Court, and should arrive tomorrow morning.

5. At the hearing on October 11, 2007, Justice Sproat also continued the temporary restraining order. Upon information, counsel for Defendants were given a copy of Justice Sproat's Order and duly informed their clients of its contents.

6. On October 11, 2007, within hours of the hearing before Justice Sproat, a moving truck appeared at Salander-O'Reilly Galleries. Upon information, a work of art by Matisse was removed from the truck and delivered to Defendants. Thereafter, artwork subject to the temporary restraining orders was removed from the Gallery and loaded onto the moving truck. Upon information, this art was to be shipped to buyers in Italy who allegedly had "traded" a Matisse for this art.

7. The trucking company refused to return the art subject to the temporary restraining orders to the Gallery. Instead, upon information, the trucking company delivered the art to its bonded warehouse. The trucking company has informed us that they do not intend to further move the art; however, we have no guarantees that will not happen.

8. By removing the art from Salander-O'Reilly Galleries, Defendants have willfully, intentionally and knowingly the restraining orders issued against them. Among other things, Defendants have traded and/or otherwise disposed of art included in the Orders and have disturbed "the status quo or location" of the Artwork. Each of this activities is clearly and expressly prohibited.

WHEREFORE, for the reasons stated herein, and for those reasons stated in all other papers accompanying Plaintiffs' Motion, the instant Motion should be granted in its entirety.
